

Natalie Syring has recently moved to Oklahoma from The Woodlands, TX. She continues to perform as principal flutist of The Woodlands Symphony Orchestra, a position she has held for 11 years. She is also flutist in the Syring-Blakeman flute and guitar duo. In Texas, she was on the faculty of Sam Houston State University for 10 years, and on the faculty of Montgomery College for 7 years. In addition to flute, she has taught music theory, appreciation, musicianship, ear training, piano and chamber music. She was president of the Houston Flute Club and director of the HFC Flute Choir for many years. Ms. Syring is a member of the National Flute Association, and has performed on several of their national conventions. She is a past winner of the NFA Masterclass Competition and has held several offices with the organization. Other professional music associations include MTNA, TMTA, and OMTA. Her degrees are in Music Education and Flute Performance.